Topic Sentence Creation Practice

Directions: A topic sentence has three parts and must be done with all three for any topic. Never, ever should your TS have “in my paragraph I will discuss,” “I will tell you,” or “My opinion on this is” You must learn and use the format ALWAYS. Look at the guide below and then come up with topic sentences for the different topics. Remember, the order of the parts can vary.

The Topic Sentence (TS):

The Main Topic	A Point About the Topic	The Number of Reasons
-----------------------	--------------------------------	------------------------------

Topic: Looking at your free-time, what is your number one favorite activity.

(TS) Upon considering all of the activities I like to do in my free-time, spending time with my family is the best for a number of reasons.

1. People dislike many things, but what is something you dislike the most?
2. There are many classes, activities, people, clubs, sports, dances and more at GOMS. Of all that is available to you what is it that you like best at this school.
3. People often talk about something they would like to change in the world. Tell me about one thing that you would really like to see change.
