

Passage Breakdown

Topic: Veto on video games because they are bad for kids

Essential Info:

- Hold out on buying video games
- Unhealthy for children
- Video games dominate kids lives
-

Main Points:	Details/Support:
1. Garver holds out on buying Video games because they Devalue childhood	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Children are obsessed with video games b. Society is already computerized and dehumanized c. Video games are too violent
2. Video games are unhealthy for children because they are addictive.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. They deliberately promote habituation. b. They promote an altered level of concentration.
3. Video games dominate kids lives and take away from real life experiences	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Sports simulation games are all kids know about sports. b. Kids see no real value in live sports. c. Kids are only excited about video games

(TS) Looking over the article “A Veto on Video Games” by Lloyd Garver, he believes that playing video games is a problem for children for a number of reasons.

(CS) In short, video games are not good for kids because they take away from being a child, are habit forming, and diminish true to life occurrences.