Dear GOMS Families,

We would like to remind our families that Schoology is an amazing tool for parents to stay current with their students' grades and assignments. You can even have Schoology email your students' progress reports to your email every week. This is an important tool for busy parents wishing to help their students succeed at GOMS. Please email your student's homeroom teacher if you have any questions or need access to your students' Schoology account.

We hope you and your families have an amazing and safe Labor Day Weekend. Stay hydrated and cool during the blazing weekend!

All the best,
Mr. Anaya and Mr. Holmes
